
The five numbered components are the points at which a procedure's verdict is produced. Boxes with a heavy border carry them. The right-hand column is a development pilot, and the confirmatory set is untouched.